MERCHANT VS DRUGGIST.

If a merchant offers you a dollar bottle of medicine for 33c, you can make up your mind you are being swindled. So says one of our bright (?) swindled. So says one of our origin (1) druggists. But if you buy the same identical bottle from the bright (?) druggist and pay one dollar for it, then who is swindled? It's all bosh for these stores that make from 50 to 1000 per cent to claim, because they have the cheek to usk such outrageous prices for their goods, that they are better. The people of this city are getting their eyes open to these facts, and assertions don't go-quality tells as well as prices. Our goods are open for inspection to of safety many were injured. The every one; and the thousands of satisfied customers who visit our stores frightful. About 200 men and girls attempted to make their escape by this gruntled competitor.

Our stock of Medicines and Perfumerles replenished every week, and at 14. 15 and 25 off regular drug store prices. quality guaranteed.

QUEENSWARE -New stock, new prices which are still lower. New Dec-orations and new shapes. Can supply street, but they were so overcome with Hotels, restaurants and boarding excitement that it was impossible to houses at wholesale prices.

Don't let anybody frighten you with low prices, we are always lower on all kinds of goods.

IN A PANIC.

Shirt Waist Factory at Troy, N. Y., Destroyed by Fire.

About 300 Girls at Work in the Establishment at the Time.

Three of Them Jump to Their Death and at Least Seventeen Perish in the Flames

—The Number of Injured is 17, Some of Them Fatally.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 18.—There was mourning in the homes of the Troy collar girls Monday night. An untimely and fearful death overtook many of them late this afternoon. Working girls whose day's labor was almost over were cut down almost without warning by fire. Three girls jumped to their death from a burning building. Distracted, agonized mothers wailed for the return of their daughters Monday night, and they wailed in vain.

Bright, pretty collar girls who had left their homes in the morning full of life, health and spirits, never lived to tell the tale of agony, torture and death. Their poor, charred bodies are now resting under tons and tons of red hot embers, stone and brick.

The fire started in J. Stetheimer & Co.'s shirt waist factory and Van Zandt and Jacobs collar factory, situated in the same building, at, 5:30 o'clock. There were 300 girls at work in the establishment.

The flames spread so rapidly that the narrow stairway which was the only exit outside of the fire escapes in the rear, was almost cut off and during the panic that followed five employes jumped from the windows, three of them to their death and many others were injured.

The dead number three and the missing four. The number of injured, so far as learned, is 17, some of whom can not live.

It is believed by everybody, even the proprietors and employes in the shops, that about 20 girls were overcome before they reached the street, and were burned up in the building. People who were familiar with the interior of the building, and knew how limited were the means of escape, place the total at least 30.

The scene of the catastrophe was at the corner of Broadway and River ized for its immense buildings. The structure is known as the Burdette building, is six stories in height and was occupied by J. Stetheimer & Co. manufacturers, of collars and cuffs, who occupied the three floors below and a restaurant and saloon on the ground floor. There was also several other minor enterprises carried on in the building. The fire which ended so disastrously started in the fifth story, in the part occupied by Stetheimer & Co. About 5:25 o'clock Monday afternoon a little boy attempted to light the gas in what $12.98, Maywood, $14.98. Climax and is known as the cutting department. Seamstress, $19.98. New Home. Wheel. Miss Lillie Kreiger, a girl, realizing the eminence of the peril, and at the the different departments of the building and warned the employes of the danger. Nothing but the bravery of a volunteer fireman saved her from

When the employes in the fifth story realized that the fire was beyond control and was likely to prove disastrous, a scene of great panic ensued.

The girls rushed about the room, some of them found their way down the stairway, others succumbed to the dense smoke and sank to the floor, and some jumped from the dizzy height of the River street windows to the pavement below. About half of the girls who were employed on the top floor thought of the fire escape, and found their way to the ground in safety.

For twenty minutes after the fire started the scene was the most exciting ever witnessed in Troy.

During this time there was a continnous panic and in the rush for a place tempted to make their escape by this exit at the same time. Many were trampled under foot. The ones who were in front were knocked from their feet and thrown to the landing and some are said to have been left unconscious on the stairway. The majority of the employes finally reached the learn from them how many had been left in the building. Quite a number found their way out by means of the We are making some special prices fire escapes. The scene was a most on Agate were and Aluminum were exciting one.
